Introduction

The CEV Beach Volley European Cup is the latest addition to the CEV Beach Volleyball portfolio. Through its introduction in 2023 the competition aims at incorporation Beach Volleyball Clubs in the CEV Beach Volleyball ecosystem, in close collaboration with National Federations and other stakeholders.

Following the very successful two previous editions organised in 2023 in Balıkesir, Türkiye, and in 2024 in Montpellier, France, the CEV is now launching the 2025 edition. The CEV Beach Volley European Cup 2025 is planned for the last quarter of 2025, following completion of the qualification process as detailed below.

Men's and Women's competitions will run separately from each other. The 2025 edition of the Beach Volley European Cup will consist of 2 phases: a Preliminary Phase (number to be confirmed at a later stage) and a Final tournament, featuring 8 clubs per gender.

1. Qualification Process

1.1. Zonal Event qualification pathway

Each Zonal Association is entitled to host one qualifying event towards the Beach Volley European Cup. The Zonal Association Club Championship winner obtains the right to compete in the CEV Beach Volley European Cup.

The homologation of the qualifying Zonal Event needs to happen by May 30th 2025, by submitting the Zonal Beach Volleyball Clubs Competition Homologation form. This form contains the relevant organising terms and conditions to host such competition. This event must be concluded by July 13th 2025.

1.2. National Championship qualification pathway

As per the previous editions, each National Federation is entitled to host one or multiple events to qualify Beach Volleyball Clubs to the CEV Beach Volley European Cup.

National Federations with an already existing or planned National Clubs competition shall define and communicate to the CEV the respective information (number of events, process of clubs registration, number of participating clubs etc.) by April 30th, 2025, through the respective National Clubs competition Homologation Form.

The National Beach Volleyball Club competition needs to be concluded by August 31st, 2025, at the latest.

The winner of the National Clubs competition obtain the right to compete in the CEV Beach Volley European Cup 2025. In addition, a 2nd spot is allocated to the 2nd ranked Clubs from the top 4 National Federations in the 2025 CEV Beach Volleyball NF Ranking.

If a Club wins both the Zonal Association Club Championship and its respective National Club competition, the qualification from the Zonal Association Championship will be prioritised. The vacant spot from the National Clubs competition will be granted to the next eligible Club.

1.3. European Cup Final organiser's spot

The organiser of the Final may be a National Federation or a Clubs will be confirmed through a Candidature Application process at a later stage and will be granted a spot to the Final.

In case the organiser is the National Federation, the winning Club of the respective National Federation will earn this spot provided that the National Clubs Championship is duly homologated.

In case the organiser is a Club, this will automatically earn the right to participate in the European Cup Final, provided that:

- ✓ The NF supports the Candidature Application to host the event
- ✓ The Club participates in their respective homologated National Clubs competition

Should the same Club win also the National Championship, the right to participate to the European Cup will be allocated to the next best ranked Club in the National competition.

All qualified Clubs having the right and wish to participate in the Beach Volley European Cup need to be registered by the respective National Federation by September 4th, 2025 through the relevant Registration Application form, while the registration of the athletes due to represent the Clubs is due by September 15th, 2025 through the Registration of Athletes form (see Article 2.2).

More specifically:

- Clubs from the top 6 countries in the CEV Beach Volley European Cup Country Ranking have been placed as pool leaders,
- Clubs from the following 6 countries have been placed as 2nd to pool, apart from those organising a pool, which were moved to the next possible spot (pools without an organiser) and considering geographical proximity
- In case multiple NFs shared the same ranking, the one with the best result in the 2024 edition was ranked higher
- In case multiple clubs shared the same ranking and same result in 2024, alphabetical order was applied to determine the position. This is according to CEV standards applied also for international Volleyball competitions
- Clubs from the same country were not positioned in the same pool. They were moved to the next available spot.

For clubs representing a National Federation without a country ranking in this competition, a draw was conducted on September 8th 2025, taking into consideration also geographical proximity.
